

STATE REQUIREMENTS

At least 38 states and the District of Columbia have laws to require some public agencies and / or private businesses to train their staff to recognize, report or respond to human trafficking crimes and victims.

Created with mapchart.net ©

Source: National Conference of State Legislatures