AAHOA and ALIS Host Development Series for Hoteliers

ATLANTA, May 4, 2017 - The Americas Lodging Investment Summit (ALIS) and the Asian American Hotel Owners Association (AAHOA) will launch and co-host a session of the ALIS Summer Update's Development Series this summer.

The series, developed by ALIS and scheduled for four different U.S. cities, features commentary by relevant thought leaders and is expected to draw hundreds of hospitality-industry professionals from around the country.

The Atlanta session will feature an extended program focused on hotel development. AAHOA President and CEO Chip Rogers will serve as moderator during the "View From the Boardroom" session from 4 to 5 PM. Session speakers include G6 Hospitality President Jim Amorosia; American Hotel & Lodging Association President and CEO Katherine Lugar; IHG CEO of The Americas Elie Maalouf; Noble Investment Group Senior Managing Principal and CEO Mit Shah; and SABDAP, LLC CEO Bruce Patel.

"ALIS is one of the most respected events in the hotel industry, with a reputation for delivering thorough and very timely information on key issues," Rogers said. "It's an honor to moderate a panel during this year's Summer Update alongside some of hospitality's biggest names."

The Atlanta program will be held at the W Atlanta Buckhead from 2 to 8 PM. Attendance is complimentary to anyone who attended ALIS 2017 in January; for all other attendees, the registration fee is $260.
