

AAHOA CEO to Speak at Hunter Hotel Conference

ATLANTA, March 22, 2017 - Asian American Hotel Owners Association (AAHOA) President and CEO Chip Rogers has been selected to speak at the 2017 Hunter Hotel Conference.

The three-day conference, now in its 29th year, is “hotel real estate and finance conference designed for hotel owners and investors.” The 2017 program explores financing, franchising, asset management, hotel PIPs, and myriad other topics focused on hotel ownership, investment, and development.

Rogers will speak alongside AH&LA SVP, Member Relations Matthew MacLaren during the general session on Friday, March 24, at 9 AM, in a presentation titled “Your Government & Your Business.” A former Georgia senator and Georgia Senate Majority Leader, as well as AAHOA’s past vice president of government affairs, Rogers is well acquainted with the interrelationship of politics and business.

“Hunter is one of the best industry conferences around, not only for its rich variety of speakers and subject matter, but for its thoughtful exploration of what it means and what it takes to be a successful hotel owner, investor, or developer,” Rogers said. “The opportunity to offer some of my own thoughts and insights on a subject so important to hospitality is truly an honor.”

The Hunter Hotel Conference will be held at the Atlanta Marriott Marquis on March 22-24. For more information, please visit hunterconference.com.
